

Summary of Rules Changes for 2018

If there are any questions or need for clarification, please contact the Zone 8 Rules staff at rulequestions@zone8.org.

Driving Events:

General:

- 1) Language prohibiting the use of cars with Automatic Emergency Braking Systems, Collision Avoidance Systems, and/or Lane Keeping Assistance Systems in DE or Time Trial events has been added.
- 2) A clause to permit Event Chairs to allow car windows to be fully up in cases of Extreme Rain has been added.
- 3) Section II - Driving Event Classes has been reorganized, with the Street Stock Class Assignments list and the CC Class Points Table moved to Appendix A. The harness installation reference diagrams have been moved to Appendix F.
- 4) The Model Series lists for Within Model Range Upgrades and Update/Backdate have been consolidated into one list in Appendix B. Members who have done an extreme Update/Backdate on an aircooled 911 or 911 Turbo should review this list to see if they will need to recalculate their car classification/points.

SS Classes:

- 1) The following are new or modified SS class assignments:

2018 718 Boxster GTS and Cayman GTS are in SS07

2018 991 Carrera T are in SS07

2018 991 Carrera/4/Targa GTS are in SS08

2018 991 GT3 and 991 Turbo S Exclusive are in SS09

2018 991 Turbo GT2 has been classed as an "exotic" and must run as an "X" car

All Panamera Turbo and Turbo S cars are now in SS07

All Panamera Turbo E-Hybrid cars are in SS08

2016 981 Boxster Spyder are now in SS08

2016 991 Targa 4 GTS are now in SS08

In cases where a car may have changed SS classes, owners should update their car classifications by editing their cars on the Zone 8 car classification website, and complete the editing process. The website will update the classification with the 2017 SS class assignments.

Concours Events:

- 1) A new division, Ganz Ubergang, has been added to allow newer cars to compete at a higher level of competition, adding judging of both halves of the chassis for a total of 5 areas.
- 2) A procedure for granting a judging exception for car damage which occurs en route to or at a Concours competition has been formalized and added.
